DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 7 January 2010 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 18-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DE 100 30 474 C1 to Rahimy in view of US 2003/0199835 to Leinsing et al.

In the specification and figures, Rahimy discloses the apparatus substantially as claimed by Applicant. With regard to claims 1 and 34, Rahimy discloses a connector with a connection part 2 with a channel-shaped recess 8 in which a self-sealing membrane 4 is arranged, wherein the recess has openings at either end (see FIG 1). The connector further comprises a break-off part 6 that closes the recess and is connected to the connection part 2 above the connection-side opening. The connection part has an internal cone above the membrane and is connected to a package for medical liquids (see FIGS 1, 6).

Rahimy fails to disclose that the membrane comprises a slit to receive a syringe. However, Leinsing discloses a connector with a channel 30 and a membrane 100 comprising a resealable opening or slit 96 that allows for repeated access with a blunt cannula 114 without penetrating the membrane 100 (see Leinsing FIGS 14, 15, and accompanying text). The design allows a fluid connection with a no-bolus effect (see paragraph 10).

With regard to claims 19 and 20, Rahimy illustrates that the connection part 6 comprises a female Luer connector thread (unlabeled, flange under weakened zone 7) and an internal cone.

With regard to claim 21, Rahimy illustrates that break-off part 8 is connected to the connection part 6 via a rupture zone at 7.

With regard to claims 22 and 23, Rahimy illustrates that the connection part has an upper section 2 and a lower section 3, wherein the pieces are fixed in a snap-in fashion by flange 1 (see FIG 1), wherein the membrane is clamped between the upper and lower sections.

With regard to claims 24-26, the Rahimy membrane 4 comprises a lower annular portion 11 and with an intermediate pieces that leads to an upper plate-shaped portion with a mould-shaped recess 5, wherein the annular portion is clamped between the upper and lower sections of the connection parts 2, 3 (see FIG 1).

With regard to claims 27 and 28, the Rahimy connection part comprises two-inwardly-facing shoulders, upon which the annular portion and plate-shaped portion of the membrane rest (see FIG 1).

With regard to claims 29 and 30, Applicant is claiming the functional relationship between the membrane and the connection parts. It is the position of the Examiner that the apparatus suggested by the combination of Rahimy and Leinsing is capable of being assembled in the manner claimed by Applicant, thereby suggesting the limitations of the claims.

With regard to claim 31, Rahimy illustrates that the annular portion of the membrane has a smaller diameter than the inner diameter of the channel-shaped recess in the connection part (see FIG 1).

With regard to claim 33, Rahimy illustrates break-off portion 6 as a flat grip, And further illustrates that the connector may be connected to bag 19 (see FIG 3).

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 18-34 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of copending Application No. 10/514,817. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because each claims a tubular connection part, a break-off seal, and a septum with the same claimed shape.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 22 July 2009 with regard to the art rejections over the pending claims have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of the references cited above.
